ASTHMA EDUCATION PROGRAM

Featuring Radical Randy and His Inflatable Airways

Radical Randy™, the MediKin with asthma, incorporates the following construction features:

- constructed of soft, durable fabric
- 30" tall, lightweight, portable
- multi-sensory learning tool
- compatible with the school age child's cognitive development
- AND, Radical Randy's chest opens to demonstrate:
WHAT IS ASTHMA?

THE MEDIKIN™ TEACHING AIDE WITH ASTHMA

TEACHING GOAL:

Child will understand the nature of airway inflammation, mucus accumulation, bronchoconstriction and their relation to symptoms and medication.

FEATURES:

INFLATABLE AIRWAYS...

Radical Randy's lungs incorporate pockets for storing removable bronchioles.

The bronchioles are inflated by squeezing the bulb pump that is connected to them with plastic tubing.

- (1) Air can be felt flowing through the healthy bronchiole, demonstrating the positive effect of adherence to the medication plan.
- (2) Air gets trapped in the inflamed, swollen bronchiole demonstrating the absence of air flow and the negative effect of medication plan non-compliance.

Chest with rib cage opens to reveal lungs:

- Healthy airways on left side
- Inflamed airways on right side

The lung with the healthy airways (left-facing photo) stores the bronchiole used to demonstrate the open airway and relaxed smooth muscles.

The lung with the inflamed airways (right-facing photo) stores the bronchiole that is inflated to demonstrate swelling and bronchoconstriction. Mucus accumulation is demonstrated by inserting green "mucus" into the swollen airway.

DESIGN EVOLUTION...the Radical Randy™ asthma MediKin™ teaching aide is the product of 10 years experience at Camp RAD, an asthma camp program, developed at The University of Texas Medical Branch, Galveston. The asthma educators identified a need for a teaching aid that would overcome the difficulty experienced when teaching airway inflammation and importance of every day controller medications. Their solution to this problem resulted in the development of the ASTHMA EDUCATION PROGRAM as a collaborative endeavor with Legacy Products, Inc.

THE DESIGN TEAM...Legacy Products modified their Standard MediKin to incorporate the multi-sensory teaching concept envisioned by an interdisciplinary team of asthma educators, that includes the following professionals:

Anne Meng, MN, CPNP, RNC Assistant Professor, SON

Edward G. Brooks, MD, Associate Professor, Dept. of Pediatrics

Regina Burdett, BS, CCLS, Child Life Specialist

Susan McConnell, MSN, RN, Doctoral Student, SON

Randall Goldblum, MD, Professor of Pediatrics

Lynda Williams, BS, RRT, Clinical Specialist, Children's Asthma Program

Nanette Jay, BSN, RN, Former Asthma Educator

Harold Winnike, BS, RRT, RPFT, Former Assistant Professor, Respiratory Care

MEDIKIN'S EFFECTIVENESS

Radical Randy was field tested in a series of 3 clinical trials:

1. Comparison of the MediKin to a control group taught with traditional hand-held props in elementary schools.
2. Comparison of the MediKin among clinicians with different teaching styles in elementary schools.
3. Utility of the MediKin in school health clinics including a Spanish-speaking clinic.

SUMMARY OF RESULTS

*Cuts teaching time
Captures children's attention
Increases knowledge*

Learning was greater with the MediKin and significantly greater for older school age children. Children found the MediKin class more interesting and fun than traditional class. Teachers were able to easily engage children's attention with the MediKin. Depending on skill of the teacher, with MediKin's use, teaching time for basic asthma pathophysiology can be cut from 27 minutes to 13 minutes. Children in the health clinics increased their asthma knowledge significantly.

The Radical Randy MediKin™ teaching program combines audio, visual, tactile & return demonstration learning.
